

The Age of Exploration

During the Age of Exploration, there were 5 major countries that set forth to find new lands, they boldly went where no one had gone before!

England, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, and France "discovered" many new lands and tried to keep them for themselves.

Task:

1. Use an online Atlas to locate the countries that each major exploring country "discovered."
2. On the world map provided indicate where these countries are located. Once you've found them, label them with their name, and a colour that corresponds to the discovering country.

For example; all the countries that the Netherlands discovered will be coloured in Orange. All the ones that France discovered will be coloured in Blue, etc...

3. Your map should include; Country names, Country colours, a legend indicating what each colour represents.

**** Your colouring should be precise, and done NEATLY!
